

About me

Always "buzzing with thoughts" curious eclectic writer, who further articulates her thoughts into a string of words. I like to stay updated on trends and am equipped with extensive experience in writing buzz-worthy content.

I'm right on my toes in order to plunge head first into the sea to trade the waves of skill sets and talents.

The aim is to pierce through the thick fog of life and eventually reach the destination with a big toothy grin.

Previous Internships

Spike Fitness blogs on Shopify

Content Writer, SEO marketing, Digital Marketing (manage SEO, did keyword analysis and made YouTube descriptions for the company, performed interlinking, backlinking) I was solely responsible for deciding the complete content structure for the fitness blogs and maintaining complete documentation on what I've done what to do next for easy management.
